

St. Michael-Albertville Business Philosophy

Business education prepares students to:

- become knowledgeable and ethical decision makers as they fulfill their roles as consumers, workers, and citizens in an increasingly global environment.
- explore and develop flexible career paths while honing lifelong learning skills that will allow them to adapt and manage technology effectively.
- make wise decisions related to their personal financial affairs and to the organizations in which they are employed and expected to manage resources.

Adapted from National Standards for Business Education